

Alternate Tunings

Here are some other alternative tunings you can try. See if you can figure out how to tune these without using an Electronic Tuner. As you get to know your fretboard, you'll find that tuning is easy. There is no better way (in my opinion) to train your ear and learn your fretboard than by experimenting with different tunings. These tunings are written with the bottom string listed first. So a standard tuning would look like this: E,B,G,D,A,E

D,B,G,B,G,D (Rolling Stones Tuneing)

D,A,Fs,D,A,D

D,A,G,D,A,D

D,C,G,D,G,B

D,B,G,D,A,E

E,Cs,A,Cs,A,E

D,B,G,D,B,G

E,C,G,C,G,C

Hope this broadens your guitar playing. You will find that your chord patterns will vary as well, experiment and have some fun.
